

Report on Introductory Session for First-Year Students by the AIL Centre for Personal Laws (ACPL)

Date: 1st October 2025

Time: 2:30 PM

Venue: Respective Classrooms

The AIL Centre for Personal Laws (ACPL) organized an introductory session for the first-year students on 1st October 2025 at 2:30 PM in their respective classrooms. The session was conducted by the members of ACPL under the guidance and supervision of the esteemed Faculty Coordinators, Dr. Alamdeep Kaur and Dr. Indu Bala.

The primary objective of this session was to acquaint the newly admitted students with the vision, objectives, and initiatives of the Centre. The members briefed the students about ACPL's ongoing projects, research goals, and its commitment to fostering awareness about the diverse facets of personal laws in India. Through engaging discussions, the students were introduced to the idea that personal laws are not merely legal frameworks but living reflections of culture, faith, and evolving social realities.

To make the interaction lively and memorable, the members organized fun activities such as "Trivia Time" and "MythBusters", designed to ignite curiosity and dispel common misconceptions surrounding family and personal law concepts. The enthusiastic participation of the first-year students added a vibrant energy to the session, transforming it into an interactive and thought-provoking exchange.

The event concluded with words of encouragement from the coordinators, who appreciated the members' efforts in making legal learning both accessible and enjoyable. The session successfully set the tone for an intellectually stimulating journey ahead, motivating the students to explore the intricate and fascinating world of personal laws with renewed interest and passion.
